

In Venice, An Elegant Retreat by Tom Carson, $3.25M

By Philip Ferrato / 12/20/16

Photos Courtesy of Brandon Michael Arant

Where: 2000 Walnut Avenue, Venice

Asking: $3,250,000

What: Newly-built, this 4-bed, 4-bath home takes full advantage of its corner site, set in a walled garden with just enough privacy from the street. Designed by Tom Carson of Carson Architects with a lovely sense of indoor-outdoor space and a sophisticated, natural palette, it's great for both entertaining and daily family life— whatever your family looks like.

The main entry leads into the great room, adjacent to an ensuite bedroom currently used as a study/office, and the stair tower.

What We Love: The absolutely simple, harmonious palette throughout.

At the top of the stairs, an intimate roof terrace gives a view of the neighbors, plus distant mountains.

More: Check out the listing for additional information, plus an extensive slide show.

<http://www.californiahomedesign.com/property/2016/12/20/venice-elegant-retreat-tom-carson-325m>